How your child is posted

The posting process is based on PSLE score, school preferences and vacancies at the selected schools.

- Students with higher PSLE scores will be considered first for vacancies in their chosen schools.
- List your child's 6 secondary school options in order of preference. Use the cut-off points for each secondary school as a guide.
- Students who cannot be placed in any of their chosen schools will be posted to the nearest available school. For this reason, we advise parents to keep their home address updated with their child's primary school. Out of the 6 options, include one with a higher chance of having vacancy.
- Singapore citizens have priority in the case of a tied score. Between two students with the same citizenship, a tie is resolved by a computerised ballot with an equal chance for each student.
